

REFERENCE PROJECTS

Since 1949, RCF has been committed to the perfect reproduction and amplification of sound for events and concerts, recording, public address, broadcast and Hi-Fi/portable audio. The company brings Italian passion for perfection and design excellence in the audio universe. All products and components are designed and developed in-house to ensure maximum quality and reliability. The comprehensive catalog covers all aspects of the audio chain and meets the requirements of musicians, sound engineers, architects and system integrators.

Innovation comes first and foremost, thanks to the RCF R&D team, creators of many original products and technologies, such as the hyper-venting system, the inside/outside voice coil, the dual silicone spiders and countless mechanical, digital and electronic leading edge solutions. RCF is always at the forefront of new technologies and materials, providing tools, documentation, technical support and training to help professionals deliver optimized sound to the listener. RCF has always shared its knowledge, experience and skills of its engineers in training activities for all audio professionals and enthusiasts. At the same time, the internal support engineering team is on hand to assist architects, system designers or integrators during the design and customization of complex systems.

The solid technical expertise, built on nearly 70 years of history, modern Italian manufacturing facility and the continuous technological improvement make RCF a fundamental reference for all audio professionals and enthusiasts. You can find RCF everywhere, in concert venues, recording studios, airports, conference halls, discotheques, public spaces, clubs, cruises or in the hands and houses of countless musicians. RCF distributes directly in the United States, France, Germany, Spain, Benelux, the United Kingdom, plus a network of trusted professional distributors throughout the rest of the world.

MUSEUMS AND EXHIBITION CENTERS

National Museum of Science and Technology Leonardo da Vinci - Milan (Italy)

500 years after Leonardo da Vinci's death, the Museum of Science and Technology of Milan celebrates the engineer and humanist "Homo Universalis" with the largest permanent exhibition in the world. A spectacular setting guides the journey starting from the Florence of the fifteenth century. From the training of the young Leonardo to the contribution of the Tuscan engineer to his stay in Milan, invited by the Sforza family.

Over 1300 square meters and 170 between historical models, works of art, ancient volumes, and installations revive the narration through the evolution of Leonardo's thought in an emotional, physical, and intellectual experience.

The New Galleries renew the historical setting with which the Museum opened to the public in 1953 and represent a unique cultural resource to inspire the new generations, the world of research, and enthusiasts of all ages.

For the occasion, the museum also renews the devices for the voice alarm and fire evacuation with an extension of the RCF DXT 3000 system previously installed. In addition to the MX 3500 units, new compact and powerful DP 1420EN loudspeakers and BE3806 microphone bases with BM 3806 push-button extensions were installed.

MX 3500 is the master unit of the Voice Alarm system DXT 3000, dedicated to small and medium-sized applications where an EN 54-16 certified system is required. The system is equipped with powerful and exceptionally reliable Class D power amplifiers, that provide up to 500 W of total power. Depending on the model, each module is able to serve up to 6 independent zones. Moreover, a spare power amplifier facility is also available.

The internal power supply is EN 54-4 certified, and the back-up batteries can be included inside the cabinet, making the system a complete and extremely compact solution. The cabinet also features customizable finishing. The on-board DSP platform allows optimizing environmental equalization, maximizing voice intelligibility, background music, and performances. The system can be completed with emergency microphone consoles, allowing to add live announcements functionality.

CONFERENCE ROOMS AND CONVENTION HALLS

BORA - Raubling (Germany)

Raubling, Germany - BORA, the company that invented the cooktop extractor systems for kitchens in private homes and restaurants, recently moved into its new office building in Raubling, Bavaria. The building's remodelling was assigned after finding a winning architect with an architectural competition. The building was completely rebuilt with resource-saving construction in mind, an intelligent façade was constructed, and a 9th floor was added. On the top floor, a multifunctional room was integrated, which also functions as a staff canteen. BORA uses the space for product presentations, but external companies use it for their purposes as well. To give the room the sound possibilities and maximise its diverse usage, BORA founder Willi Bruckbauer and the installation company Musik Mayer GmbH & Co KG from Aiging in Chiemgau (Germany) decided on a sound system from RCF.

The system delivers excellent performance for background sound in everyday lunchtime operations and party/band sound in the performance range. Quite unusual but induced by the events taking place, a compact line array system consisting of 2x4 HDL 26-A components was permanently installed in the ceiling. Further 2x2 HDL 26-A components, also mounted in the ceiling, serve as a delay array. 3x TTS 15-A subwoofers (frontal) are used as bass clusters. All RCF components are perfectly matched and work seamlessly together. The system is monitored via RCF's RDNet system.

BORA Managing Director Willi Bruckbauer comments on the top location and the sound equipment being used: "Our requirement for the PA system for the BORA "Hälzyba" on the ninth floor was multifunctional usability: RCF's PA systems promise perfect, clear sound both during staff lunchtimes and in support of product presentations and events. They already demonstrated their capabilities during our Inspiration Days in June. And before that, the sound machine had already generated enthusiasm at our Christmas party. Another important fact; the design meets our demand for excellent style. All in all, that's why we are currently equipping another room with an RCF system." Rupert Meyer from Musik Mayer is also pleased with the successful integration: "Every time I visit BORA, I am always pleased with the system. It is very present in the background (at minimum volume) when the employees are having lunch. Even at these low input levels, there is no background noise or anything like that. At occasional parties with small bands or DJs, the system is working with definitely more power, but even at high sound levels, it sounds very balanced and unaggressive."

Saint Gerardo Hospital – Monza (Italy)

The San Gerardo Hospital of Monza, one of the most prestigious health facilities in northern Italy, has undergone an important strengthening intervention. An articulated expansion project with new buildings and renovation of the existing buildings, are aimed to provide a radical modernization and technological update. The redevelopment includes a complex RCF project for EN54-compliant fire evacuation systems and vocal announcements.

The work, for a total amount of over 200 million euros, brings the total surface of the hospital structure to approximately 196,000 sqm; given the particular complexity and extent of the projects, the intervention was divided into four phases which will see the definitive end to construction by the end of 2022.

The new hospital complex is divided into several areas, with organizational and managerial buildings, but well connected. Each building is intended to accommodate various care activities without interference. The complete replacement of all the elements of the facades was also conceived in order to achieve a radical improvement in thermal and acoustic insulation performance, increase the comfort of hospitalization, and the containment of energy consumption.

The entire system for service communications and voice alarm is based on the RCF DXT Series matrixes with numerous components from the RCF Voice Alarm product catalog. The installation includes a 42 unit master control system for the “New Avancorpo” and two 28 unit slave control interface(?) “Sector AEA” and “Sector AEC” connected together with multimode optical fiber in a ring topology. Two microphone consoles are available for fire brigades to send pre-recorded alarm messages and emergency announcements to all areas - or groups of them. A table console allows complete system management and supervision of all the plants with a simple LCD display. From the table console users can address messages, evacuation calls, and announcements in the individual areas throughout the entire complex. The slave control units are each equipped with an additional VVF console for local emergencies.

Numerous recessed PL series speakers, DU steel speakers, and CS column arrays are installed, as well as HD horn systems for outdoor areas. All RCF components installed are EN54 certified.

The Plaza Tirana Hotel
Tirana (Albania)

The image shows the interior of the Tbilisi Theatre restaurant. The space is dimly lit with warm, ambient lighting. In the foreground, several round tables are set with white tablecloths, white plates, and glassware. Blue upholstered chairs with curved backs are arranged around the tables. In the background, there is a stage area with a white curtain and a balcony with a metal railing. A green exit sign is visible on the wall. The overall atmosphere is elegant and sophisticated.

Tbilisi Theatre - Georgia

Tbilisi, Georgia - The Tsiskvili Group, a leading provider of luxury dining experiences in Georgia, officially opened “Theatre” on November 25th, a new concept space that combines the best of live entertainment and fine dining. Located on Beliashvili Street, Theatre offers a multifunctional venue where guests can enjoy performances of all styles and genres while being served modern interpretations of traditional Georgian dishes.

“Theatre is a true embodiment of our commitment to offering our guests a one-of-a-kind experience,” said Lasha Chkaidze, CEO of Tsiskvili Group. “We are proud to have brought together the best in live entertainment and fine dining in one exceptional venue.”

The space, which features a stage and a pavilion, will host a wide range of events including: theatrical productions, opera, ballet, concerts, gala events, conferences, and corporate parties, as well as private events. The kitchen at Theatre will offer a predetermined menu with dishes tailored to the content and theme of each event.

The Tsiskvili Group has partnered with Smarthouse and Office LLC, the official RCF distributor in Georgia, to ensure that Theatre offers guests the best possible sound experience. Konstantine Beruchashvili, Managing Partner of Smarthouse and Office LLC, said, “We already installed RCF sound systems for all Tsiskvili restaurants over the last decade, and both the quality and reliability of RCF speakers are outstanding, said Beruchashvili “We are proud to have been chosen to provide sound solutions for Theatre. Our team of expert sound engineers and installers have worked closely with the Tsiskvili Group to ensure that the sound system at Theatre is of the highest quality and meets the needs of the venue.”

Smarthouse and office LLC installed a main line array system with eight TTL 33-A II, two TTS 36-A subs, and two HDL 26-A as front fill. “Other than the main stage, the venue also features TTW 4-A high-powered column arrays and TTS 18-A II subwoofers,” said David Antadze, sound engineer and installer from Smarthouse. “We installed eight NX-15-SMA stage monitors, and there are many RCF speakers all throughout the venue. Some from the top TT+ professional line like TT 08-A II and TT 10-A and other speakers from the Business Music and Installed Sound series, WMF 33EN, MF 33EN, and more than 30 RCF DUP 5EN, excellent speakers for background music and EVAC applications.”

MainRo - Los Angeles (USA)

When you imagine an eclectic dining experience in Hollywood, you might not always imagine seeing a performance by a world-class DJs, or from touring performers from around the world—in the same evening, in the same seat. That is the experience at MainRo, one of the latest “clubstraurants” trending in the area, a creation by owner Romain Zago, known in the Miami club scene for Mynt Lounge in South Beach, Florida. Zago has brought into fruition the successful merging of savory meals and glamour décor, then transitioning into a nightclub, with stunning lighting effects and professional sound. Redefining the concept of “dinner and a show.”

When Zago began construction at MainRo, he brought in Miami-based system integrator Pawel Roguszcak (clubTech, LLC) to design and install the new audio system. The venue will host many types of performances to include touring DJ’s, vocalists, and live bands- one step beyond the Mynt Lounge approach. Zago gives Roguszcak complete control over the decision and budget for the install.

“RCF has always been on the top of my list, there were so many reasons why RCF would work in this particular venue,” said Roguszcak, owner and installer at clubTech. “We were looking for something ultra-compact that would give us tour-quality sound on a permanent scale.” ClubTech got its start in 2007, specializing in nightclub venue build outs, that included two Mynt nightclub locations built by Zago. “We have experience with RCF’s sister company, dB [Technologies] equipment, installed in both Mynt locations. We’ve worked with RCF in permanent installs with smaller products in the past. RCF quality and price point is amazing, it made perfect sense,” Roguszcak continues.

The room dimension at MainRo is a standard 100’ by 40’ rectangle, with a stage on one end, full dining in the early evening, which then converts to nightclub with table service. “The MainRo system is a bit of a hybrid system, the main arrays are HDL 10-A [14] with HDL 15-AS [4] subwoofers for the main arrays, on the floor we installed passive subwoofers from the RCF S-Series, Two double 18” and two single 18’ subwoofers.”

Una, Nessuna, Centomila - RCF Arena - Italy

A few days after the inauguration of the RCF Arena, the sloping lawn of Reggio Emilia once again hosted 100,000 spectators for an event focused against gender violence. Over 60 artists and musicians took to the stage, amplified by the more than 400 line-array audio modules from RCF.

Shortly before the 2020 lockdown, Fiorella Mannoia, Giorgia, Laura Pausini, Gianna Nannini, Alessandra Amoroso, Elisa and Emma Marrone announced the concert event Una, Nessuna, Centomila (One, none, one hundred thousand), to raise funds to fight gender violence. As was initially expected, as many male colleagues joined the seven artists: Caparezza, Brunori Sas, Diodato, Sottotono, Tommaso Paradiso, Coez and Eros Ramazzotti.

RCF Arena is the largest green area equipped for events in Europe and was built in the Reggio Emilia airport area. It allows a modular capacity from 10,000 to 100,000 people and bears the name of the largest Italian professional audio company. Clearly, RCF sound is the pride of the venue: RCF Arena is equipped with a total of 410 modern and newly designed TT+ loudspeakers and approximately 2 Megawatts of sound power available.

In addition to the performers on stage (each artist brought his own band) as if they were mini-concerts. Including the production staff involved, around 140 production personnel found plenty of space on stage. Six audio desks in the control room, all digitally interconnected, can change-over bands in less than 15 minutes. All engineers worked with the 408 RCF TT+ modules available in the arena coordinated by a digital matrix system.

Pierfrancesco Tempesta, sound engineer for Elisa and Emma Marrone and audio coordinator, commented on his experience at RCF Arena: “We were particularly satisfied with the success of the event. A place like RCF Arena is spectacular, starting from the management of the public to the excellent acoustic and visual performance of the sloping lawn. In such a complex context, with important Italian artists, numerous musicians and backliners moving on stage, and an impressive infrastructure like this, everything went smoothly. The RCF team was helpful and precise, we set up everything with extreme tranquility and with perfect coordination.”

Tempesta continues, “The performance of the TT+ system was unanimously approved. Even before any minor corrections to the various mixers in the room, the system was ready and sounding great. There was a common satisfaction at FOH while mixing the show with this new system. In my opinion, RCF has taken a significant step forward in systems for large events.”

PLACES OF WORSHIP

Saints Hoan-Thien Catholic Centre (USA)

The Saints Hoan-Thien Catholic Centre in Keysborough, Victoria, is situated on 4 hectares of land owned by Melbourne's Vietnamese Catholic community. Over the years, the Community Centre has been the site of many milestones for the local Catholic populace, such as festivals, congresses, and celebrations. Across from the cardinal building lies the 'Our Lady Of La Vang' shrine, a newly completed house of worship that has been a long-term labor of love for the fellowship.

Within the bright inner expanse of the shrine, the building's crisp white roof dominates the architecture. Hanging cleanly from either side of the far end, sit two compact RCF line arrays. Looking almost transparent in their optional matte white finish, the HDL 6-A modules blend perfectly into the supernal scene. Supplied by Factory Sound in Melbourne, and recently set up by installer UB Group, the system provides Front of House audio coverage for voice reinforcement, music playback, and occasional live instrument reinforcement for the venue's regular church Services.

UB Group Director, Bang Le, explains his choice of technology- "Based on their audio requirements and budget, the HDL 6-A system was easily the best option. We needed something with a low visual profile and something that we could count on to deliver great sound throughout regular use. The HDL series is very neat, looks good with the architecture here, and has a fantastic size to power Ratio."

Both the left and right arrays at the shrine feature 6 x HDL 6-A modules, each individually capable of an impressive 131 dB max SPL, as well as 2 x HDL 12-AS active flyable subwoofers. The HDL 12-AS are the perfect companion sub modules to the HDL 6-A, housing a 12" woofer and bringing the overall frequency response of the system down to 40 Hz.

"The primary function of the system will be sound reinforcement for speech and some live music- especially things like Christmas carols and special events where the space may get filled more than usual- situations where a little more power will be required. I have been working with RCF equipment for years and I have confidence in the output and reliability of the brand," says Bang. For one of Australia's largest migrant communities, the Our Lady of La Vang Shrine.

is a shared dream made manifest - a project that has seen three Melbourne archbishops and been the work of generations of Vietnamese families. The addition of RCF's precision Italian hardware -born of a vast heritage of expert engineering- helps elevate the space further, from impressive to divine.

SPORTS FACILITIES AND STADIA

St. Jakob Park - Basel (Switzerland)

The St. Jakob Park, locally referred to as “Joggeli”, looks back on a long history. The largest stadium in Switzerland follows a new construction managed by the architects Herzog + de Meuron. After several extensions, St. Jakob Park is the first multifunctional venue in Switzerland with apartments, a shopping center, restaurants, department stores, and is also a UEFA Category 4 stadium. During the most recent modernization in 2020 and 2021, the owner, FC. Basel has renewed the entire sound system with RCF sound systems. The under-balcony PA system and the entire grandstand PA system have been upgraded with RCF loudspeakers. Power amplifiers and audio matrix systems have also been replaced. In particular, the client chose passive systems of the HL, HVL and P series from the Italian manufacturer to renew and improve the sound experience.

Martin Reich, CEO of audioconsulting ag, draws a first positive conclusion: “After the first few games, we have received very positive feedback. The music reproduction and the coverage by the new RCF systems have become more homogeneous in comparison, and speech intelligibility has also improved distinctly. With the line array systems, we can make much finer adjustments in terms of quieter and louder sections than was ever possible with the previous point-source loudspeakers.”

Due to the high acoustic requirements of the UEFA directive for a stadium sound system, the excellent experience with RCF loudspeakers in several Bundesliga stadiums, the decision was made to install loudspeakers from the HL, HVL and P Series. In total, the grandstand PA system comprises 205 HL 40 line array elements, 30 HS 2200 high-performance subwoofers for the main PA, and ten HVL 15 loudspeakers for the corner PA. A total of 330 P 4228 loudspeakers, specially manufactured in Basel-Red color, are used for the sound reinforcement of the under-balcony areas and the walkways.

The RCF systems fulfilled all benchmarks in the decision of FC Basel as operator of the St. Jakob Park stadium and audioconsulting ag as an installer. The most important criterion was the improvement in speech and music reproduction, which is largely achieved. The audio system is also used for safety-related announcements, so it must guarantee the requirements of the Swiss SES guideline SN EN 50849. Equally crucial was a seamless transition from the old to the new system and excellent weather resistance and reliability parameters during day-to-day operation. The system can be controlled and monitored remotely, virtually down to the smallest transducer.
